Interview with Naace ICT Impact Lifetime Achievement Award Winner Dr Christina Preston

By Terry Freeman, Educational ICT Consultant | Thursday, March 28, 2013 at 2:03PM |
Permalink

Christina Preston was one of two people given the Lifetime Achievement Award at the 2013 Conference of eLearning, the subject association for ICT. I interviewed her to find out about her and her work.

Christina Preston receives her Lifetime Achievement Award from Graham Brown-Jarvis. She is almost unbelievable that, sooner or later, Christina Preston would receive a lifetime achievement award from her home country. She is well known on the educational ICT scene for her passionate and forthright views about the curriculum and pedagogy. And that applies not only in the UK, but all over the world.

IRIS - Collaboration, Community and Innovation
